Protect your employees

KwickScreen enable you to protect your employees by practising social distancing through:

- Managing foot flow traffic with one-way walking routes around offices with arrowed and signed screens that remind people of important hygiene actions.
- Dividing open plan offices in to discrete spaces, so interaction between different individuals and teams is effectively managed.
- Creating one-way flows in busy corridors to reduce people “passing” each other.
- Dividing lift lobbies so “Up” and “Down” areas can be managed to enable better flow in and out of buildings

Protect your customers

KwickScreen enables you to protect your customers by ensuring social distancing through:

- Establishing building access and exit routes that support safe transition into and out of buildings.
- Creating queue corridors with 2m markings that cannot be “jumped” in the way that queue ropes can.
- Managing customer traffic around shopping spaces and tills to reduce the risk of customers passing or choosing their own route which is counter to your designed flow.
- Creating multiple waiting or changing areas in large open plan spaces.

Protect your business

KwickScreen enable you to protect your employees by practising social distancing through:

- Providing confidence to your employees that you are taking precautions, whilst enhancing, not ruining, the aesthetic of your office space.
- Providing confidence to customers by using hospital grade equipment to create safe spaces for them to access.
- Using the opportunity to create attractive company branded messages that are interchangeable.
